Erica J. Geibel

Ms. Geibel represents clients in the government contracts, white collar, and construction practice areas. She has significant experience in the area of compliance counseling and regularly reviews ethics and compliance programs, assists in training, and evaluates and tests internal controls. Ms. Geibel is a Certified Compliance & Ethics Professional having received her CCEP in 2017.

Her practice includes extensive work on independent monitor engagements, contractor responsibility and integrity issues, internal investigations, Anti-Kickback Act issues, Foreign Corrupt Practices Act compliance counseling, and civil False Claims Act issues, as well as all aspects of government contracts including small business issues, contract claims and disputes, bid protests, contract negotiations, contract review and contract drafting, and costing and pricing issues involving cost allocability and allowability.

In her construction practice, Ms. Geibel has represented major national and international contractors, as well as local contractors on a wide variety of construction issues. Her construction experience includes, but is not limited to, work on general negligence, differing site conditions, design changes, contract interpretation issues, and analysis of contractor claims.

Ms. Geibel is Co-Chair of the D.C. Bar Government Contracts and Litigation Community Steering Committee; former Co-Chair of the Fairfax Bar Association Government Contracts Section; a Vice Chair of the Construction Division of the ABA Section of Public Contract Law; a member of the ABA Forum on Construction Law; and a member of the Women's White Collar Defense Association.

Ms. Geibel instructs courses on a variety of government contracts topics including ethics and compliance in government contracting. In 2017 and 2018, Ms. Geibel was named a Virginia Super Lawyers "Rising Star" and in April 2018 was selected as the winner of the Forum on Construction Law Trial Academy Writing Competition."
